Earth Day Report – 2023

The Earth Day is celebrated on 22nd April every year and this day is also known as “International Mother Earth Day”. The day is observed to spread awareness about environmental issues of pollution, global warming, and deforestation, which harm the planet. Countries from all over the world come together on the day to raise awareness of protecting our global environment.

CASMB Environmental Information Awareness Capacity Building and Livelihood Programme Resources Partner (EIACP RP) celebrated the Earth Day 2023. This was inaugurated by Prof. Dr. P. Anantharaman, webinar's coordinator, EIACP RP.

Dr. K. Sivakumar, Associate Professor & EIACP RP Faculty team member, CAS in Marine Biology, Annamalai University, Parangipettai, highlighted about the Sea Surface Temperatures and the international blue carbon initiative.

Nearly 36 participants attended the webinar programme and received their E-certificates. The faculty members - Dr. T. Ramanathan, Dr. A. Saravanakumar and Dr. B. Deivasigamani, Associate Professors, CAS in Marine Biology, Annamalai University - also attended the webinar meeting. The programme was successfully organized by EIACP RP Staff.
