Awareness Programme on Lifestyle for environment

Invited lecture Report

CASMB Environmental Information, Awareness, and Capacity Building and Livelihood Programme Resources Partner (EIACP RP), organized an invited lecture in order to popularize the importance of seaweeds and their diversity to the CASMB faculty on March 27, 2024. Dr. P. Anantharaman, Co-ordinator, EIACP PC RP, inaugurated the programme and delivered welcome address.

Chief guest, Prof. Dr. P.V. Subba Rao, Scientist (Retd). CSIR-CSMCRI, Mandapam, Tamil Nadu gave a lecture on “Seaweeds: Distribution, Diversity and Application”. The guest explained the seaweed diversity and distribution in India in detail and he stated that the seaweeds (red, green, or brown marine algae) grow alongseashores and are anchored to the sea bottom or other structures by roots likeholdfasts, which perform the sole function of attachment and do not extract nutrients, as do the roots of higher plants. He concluded his speech by demonstrating the applications and commercial importance of seaweeds.
